

Enterprise Systems Center, Lehigh University Global Leadership Seminar November 2015

John McGlade, Former CEO for Air Products & Chemicals spoke on Leadership Insights and focused on five points that he learned “the hard way” over his years at Air Products.

Dr. Emory Zimmers, LU Professor and ESC Director opened the two-day seminar by Welcoming the Thai Ramkhamhaeng University where eighteen students, two junior professors, and two senior professors listened to keynote speakers on Global Leadership.

Jill Helmer, Global Organization Development Consultant at Air Products articulates on Identifying, Assessing and Developing High Potential Talent and brings interactive case study to Thai group.

Keith Krenz, founder and CEO of Technology Systems Corp. discusses Leadership Principles, Core Elements & Lessons from his experience running his independent industrial engineering firm.

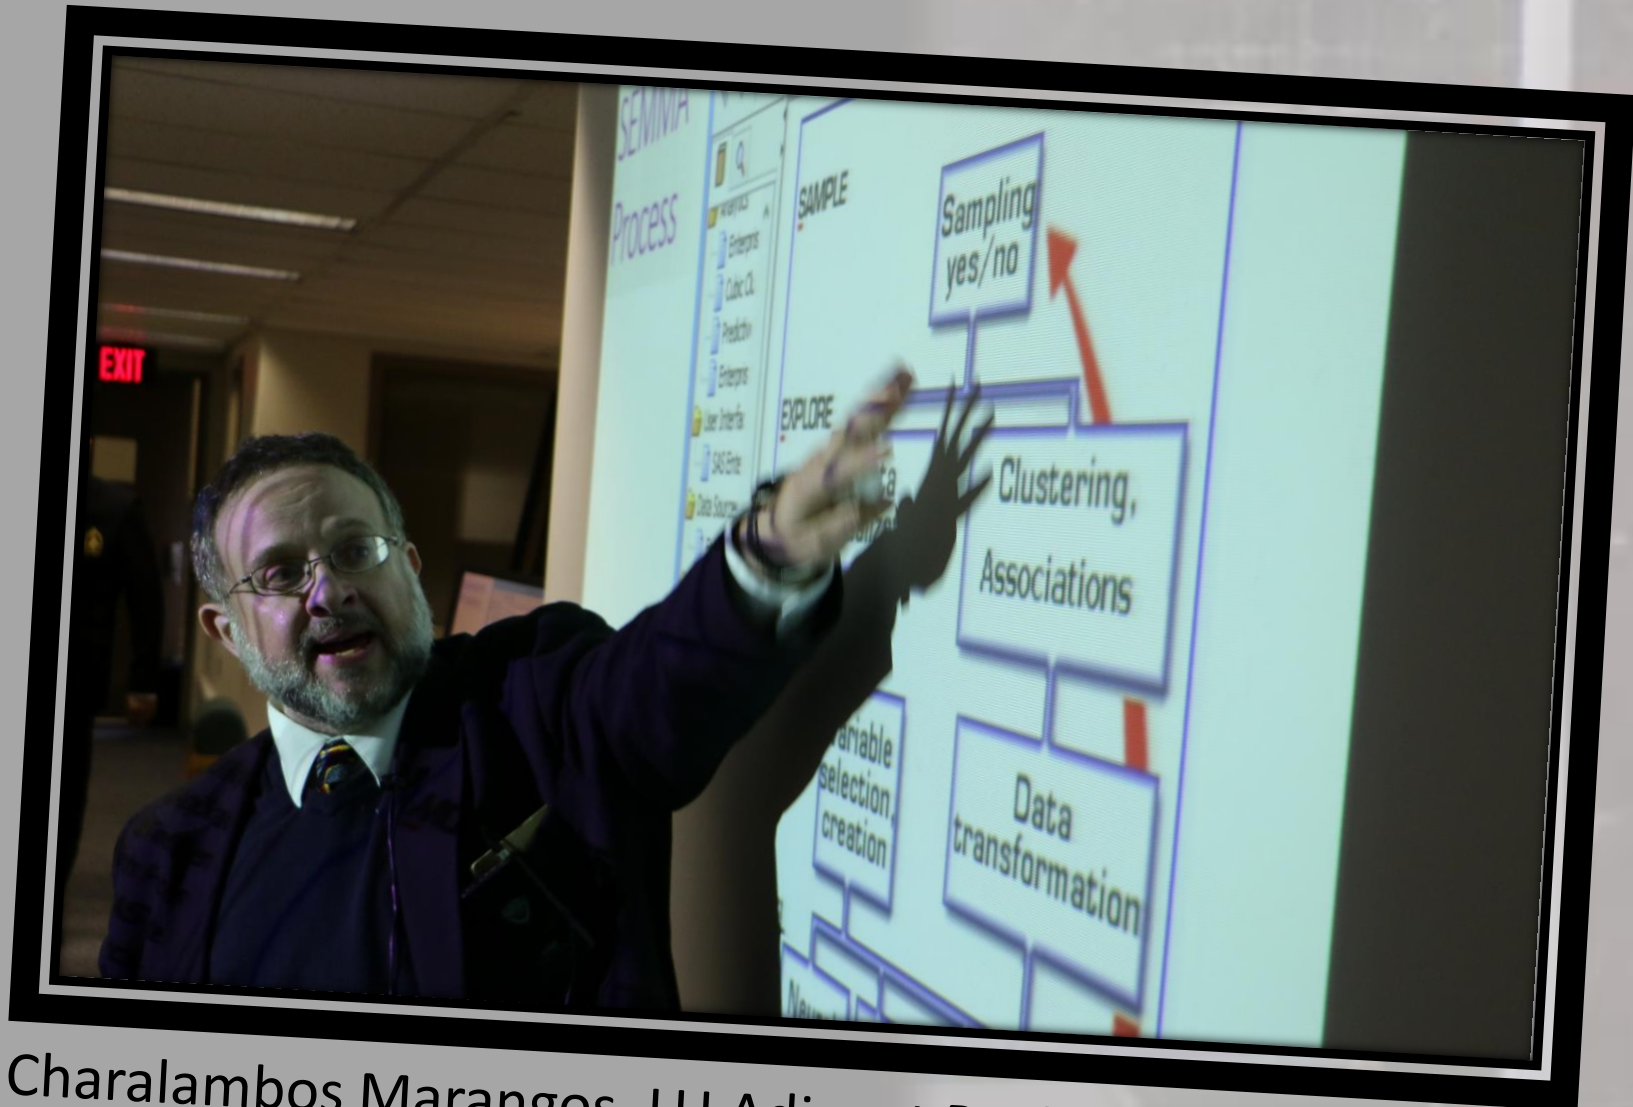

Dan Mulholland, Former CEO of Mallinckrodt Baker, Inc. gives his Executive Leadership presentation by describing the three overarching themes of leaders; ‘The Three E’s’: Envision, Energize & Enable.

Ray Hoving, former IT Executive at Air Products & Chemicals presents Visioning as a Leadership Tool and shows videos of notable people that depict their visions and goals that led them to be great leaders.

Ray Glemser, President and co-founder of Glemser Technologies, Inc. presents Business Leadership, Recommendations & Case Studies from Starting Up & Running A Successful Business.

Charalambos Marangos, LU Adjunct Professor and President of Zephyros Inc. utilized the Advanced Analytics Laboratory at the Enterprise Systems Center and gave participants hands-on experience with Big Data and Analytics.

Ramkhamhaeng University, Thailand Participants